Little Hoover Group Urges Consolidation

Harrisburg (AP) — Merger of the State Health, Welfare and Public Assistance Departments was urged yesterday to save millions of dollars of Pennsylvania taxpayers' money.

The recommendation was contained in a report made to Gov. John S. Fine's "Little Hoover" Committee by one of its 30 "task forces" studying various state activities.

Francis J. Chesterman, Philadelphia, chairman of the Economy Study Committee, said its members have yet to discuss the "task force" report. It will screen that and various reports before making recommendations to the governor.

Chesterman said the "task force" committee reported its recommendations would save millions of dollars in tax money.

Neither Fine nor the heads of the three affected departments would comment on the report until they had a chance to study it.

The report, made by a special investigating committee of the Pennsylvania Citizens Association, a privately-supported agency interested in welfare activities, said many state health and welfare responsibilities have "become unnecessary or inappropriate."

"All three departments maintain administrative and service units which overlap and duplicate functions in virtually identical manners," the report said. "This would be the most effective method of establishing an organization that meets modern standards of good business administration."

The current two-year appropriation for the three departments is nearly 300 million dollars. That's about one-third of the total general state appropriations.

The report, first to be made public by the study committee, also urged "immediate adoption of an effective merit system for health and welfare personnel." It said its program "cannot be successful under a method of selecting, compensating and promoting personnel which gives precedence to partisan political matters."

Other recommendations included:

One — Changing the boards of trustees at all state institutions from administrative groups to advisory bodies by Jan. 1, 1954.

Two — Paying attention to where and how health and welfare money—now totaling almost 150 million dollars a year—is spent.

Three — Eliminating the use of state funds to support 10 general hospitals in the coal regions—and two orphanage schools with the institutions being taken over by local groups if possible.

Four — Increasing the fees collected from patients in state hospitals. The report suggests as much as 10 million dollars a year can be raised in this way.

Five — Restudying the basis of granting subsidies to private institutions and agencies.

Six — Subsidized services to individuals should be based on rules of need and eligibility, "which apply equally to all citizens of Pennsylvania, without regard to politics or other extraneous factors."

Cancer Society Honors Blakeslee

New York (AP) — The American Cancer Society yesterday gave its 1952 distinguished service award to the late Howard W. Blakeslee, science editor of The Associated Press.

The presentation was made to Mrs. Rosamond Blakeslee, widow of the editor, at a luncheon. Blakeslee died last May 20.

"Mr. Blakeslee was a faithful and distinguished servant of science and the press," Pat McGrady, science editor of the cancer society, said in making the presentation. "Perhaps more effectively than any other person, he translated the research advances of this century into the language of the common man and made science the property of all the people."

Eisenhower-Truman Talks Slated For Next Tuesday; Dodge Gathers Budget Data

Washington, (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower will sit down with President Truman at 2 p. m. next Tuesday to discuss plans for an orderly exchange of administrations. The talks will deal with international and domestic problems facing the new Republican administration.

The date was announced by the White House after a telephone call from Augusta, Ga., where Eisenhower is spending a brief vacation.

At the same time Detroit banker Joseph Dodge arrived here on a top-flight mission for the President-elect. Dodge will look over the shoulder of the Truman administration as it prepares next year's budget—but he will refrain from giving any advice.

Eisenhower hasn't seen Truman his old commander-in-chief, since well before the election Nov. 4. It had been tentatively arranged that he would visit the White House Monday. Then the date was fixed firmly for Tuesday.

Truman is expected to give his successor a fill-in on the present state of federal affairs.

President-Elect Summons Dewey To Augusta To Plan General's Trip To Korea

Augusta, Ga., (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York will talk over the general's forthcoming trip to Korea and other policy matters at a conference here Friday.

And Eisenhower will hold an important round of policy-making meetings in New York next week with other Republican leaders. Sen. Robert A. Taft, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, may sit in.

Plans for the conferences were announced at the general's vacation headquarters here yesterday by his press secretary, James G. Hagerty.

Dewey will leave New York state by plane Friday morning for a vacation in Miami, Fla. He will stop off in Augusta for four or five hours at Eisenhower's request, Hagerty said.

Arrangements for the meeting came against a background of reports that Dewey will get a Cabinet post in the new GOP administration. He has been mentioned for secretary of state or secretary of defense.

Dewey said last week, however, that he intends to serve out his term as governor. It runs for two more years.

Hagerty repeated yesterday that no date has been fixed yet for Eisenhower's trip to Korea. The general said during the campaign that if elected he would visit Korea in an effort to end the war there.

Dewey's scheduled meeting with the President-elect to discuss the Korean trip, among other matters, came amid reports that Eisenhower aides already have been in touch with the Pentagon regarding arrangements for the visit and—more important—the military situation in Korea.

Hagerty said he had no information on whether the general plans to consult with John Foster Dulles, GOP foreign policy adviser, before going to Korea.

Dulles, like Dewey, has been mentioned as a possible Eisenhower choice for secretary of state.

Aged Hunter Missing
Greenville (AP)—State police aided by nearly 100 high school boys from nearby Jamestown conducted a fruitless search yesterday for a 76-year-old hunter, Fred Burns, who has been missing since Tuesday morning.

San Jose, Calif. (AP)—Actress Joan Fontaine and movie producer Collier Young were married at nearby Saratoga yesterday—but not until an airplane-taxi relay sped the couple wedding clothes and a wedding license left behind in Southern California.

'Yankee' Newspaper Couple Leaves South Hour Before Deadline Set By Hooded Men

Tupelo, Miss. (AP) — A young North Dakota newspaperman and his pretty, blonde, 21-year-old pregnant wife started homeward yesterday one hour before a deadline for him to get out of town he said was set by hooded men because he is a Yankee.

Newell Anderson, 26 years old Tuesday, and his wife, expecting their first child in April, began the 1,300-mile automobile trip back to his home in Fargo, N. D., shortly before 5 p.m.

Anderson said that two hooded men took him on a ride of terror Monday night and threatened him if he did not leave this city of 15,000 in the hills of Northeast Mississippi by 6 p.m. yesterday.

The ride climaxed a series of telephoned threats running over a two-week period, smashing of the windshield of his car and pouring sugar in the gasoline tank.

U.N. Assembly Asked To Hunt Lie Successor

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — The U. N. Assembly's steering committee yesterday unanimously recommended, without a word of debate, that the Assembly take up the politically-hot question of naming a successor to Secretary General Trygve Lie.

The Assembly itself is expected to agree with the recommendation late this week or early next week and farm out the explosive issue to a committee for full debate. There is no indication when the subject actually will be debated.

Lester B. Pearson, Assembly president who is considered a possibility for the Lie post, convened the steering committee at 3:18 p.m. He stated the question and said he would recommend its inclusion on the Assembly's agenda if no one objected.

As the crowded committee room watched in expectation, Pearson glanced at Ambassador Ernest A. Gross of the United States, British delegate Sir Gladwyn Jebb, Russia's Andrei Gromyko, and the other members of the committee. No one moved. Pearson said the recommendation was approved and adjourned the meeting at 3:22 p.m.

But it was not that quiet in the U. N. corridors. They are full of rumors that Lie meant what he said when he resigned Monday, or that Lie was trying to get a vote of confidence from the Assembly by this method, or that Lie could be persuaded to stay on if the Security Council could not agree on a successor.

The debate on Lie's resignation promises to be one of the most heated in the U. N. halls. Delegates here are saying that this really involves the seemingly impossible task of getting President Truman or Gen. Eisenhower, Prime Minister Stalin, Prime Minister Churchill, Premier Antoine Pinay and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to agree on one man. The big five must agree on a new man under the U. N. charter.

Delegates, meanwhile, kept talking about the Korean issue and other problems. The Republic of Korea delegation circulated among the U. N. members a 46-page booklet urging creation of a two-million man South Korean army to take over the main burden of opposing the Communist aggressors. The document also opposed the Korean truce negotiations.

Harvest Assures U. S. Of Large Volume Of Crops

Washington, (AP)—Favorable to ideal harvesting conditions during October assured the nation its second largest volume of crops on record.

The Agriculture Department reported yesterday that the harvest of all crops combined will be only 2.5 per cent below the record set in 1948.

Topping the favorable farm production picture is a corn crop of 3,303,000,000 bushels, also the second largest on record. This assures abundant grain supplies for the expanding livestock industry.

The report was not without its dark side. The department said Fall conditions—which have been unusually dry in many sections—have been highly unfavorable for the seeding and development of Fall-sown grains, such as winter wheat, rye and oats.

Bradley Warns Of New Red Tactics

Washington (AP) — Gen. Omar Bradley said yesterday Soviet Russia has shifted from threats to peace talk and declared the Kremlin's new tactic is "the siren song we must expect."

On that basis, the general cautioned against U. S. withdrawal from collective military efforts or any slowdown in U. S. rearmament. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, declared that the decision to draw the line against Communist aggression in Korea forced a change in the Kremlin's technique.

McLean said he was paying for return of the Anderson's furniture to Fargo.

Anderson said he had no plans for the future but would look for another newspaper job probably near his home.

DAMAGES ESTIMATED AT $5,500 resulted early yesterday when this truck crashed into the Pocono Gates Bar and Grill near Swiftwater. Accident occurred when brakes failed as brick-laden truck was traveling south on Route 611. Driver was James W. Starks, Binghamton, N.Y., who escaped serious injury. (Daily Record photo)

Brick-Laden Truck Runs Away When Brakes Fail, Causing Damages Placed At $5,500

Swiftwater—A run-away truck crashed into the Pocono Gates Bar and Grill north of here at 1:10 a. m. yesterday, damaging the building an estimated $2,000 and causing damages of $3,500 to the truck, trailer and cargo.

Mount Pocono State police who investigated said the driver, James W. Starks, 34, of Binghamton, N. Y., told them his brakes failed as he was driving south. He said he attempted to locate an embankment to stop the movement but crashed into the headwall of the building.

Starks was treated in the office of Dr. E. O. Hendrick, Mount Pocono, for shock, then released. Police said no charges will be preferred.

The truck, owned by Evelyn Willes, also of Binghamton, was transporting 16 and a half tons of bricks. The crash was not head-on, police said, but the truck's body paralleled the structure, crushing the front portion about 15 feet. Serious injury to Starks probably was averted by the manner of the collision, police said. The weight of the bricks did not shift forward, about half the load dropping off the left side of the trailer. Starks told police he shifted into third gear before the crash.

Pocono Gates Bar and Grill is owned by Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Reddy and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Horn, who reside on the premises. The establishment was closed for the night when the truck rammed into the building.

ROKs Crush Two Chinese Counterblows

Seoul (AP) — South Koreans hurled the Chinese Reds from three peaks on the Central Front in a heroic charge yesterday, then crushed two night counterblows in the glare of big Allied searchlights.

The South Koreans withdrew from the highest peak on Sniper Ridge during one of the attacks while Allied artillery pounded the Chinese. Then they reoccupied it without opposition.

The 31st day of bruising battle for the Kumhwa ridges found the South Koreans once more in control of all ground lost to heavy Chinese attacks Tuesday, including Pinpoint Hill, dominant height on Sniper Ridge.

The retrained South Korean infantrymen stormed Pinpoint while simultaneously rocking back the Chinese from two peaks on the flanks.

By nightfall they had recaptured Jane Russell Hill, a height on Triangle Hill west of Sniper Ridge, and Rocky Point to the east. Rocky Point is a part of the Sniper Ridge mass itself.

With Pinpoint in their hands, the South Koreans then surged down its north slopes and on up to the Yoke of Sniper Ridge. There they battled for five hours, trying to blast the Chinese from the maze of tunnels inside the yoke.

They never succeeded. Furious Chinese resistance and nightfall forced the Koreans to return to Pinpoint Hill to await the attacks they knew were coming.

They did not have long to wait. Hardly were they back in position when from 150 to 170 Chinese streamed from the tunnels on the Yoke and attacked the height. The Communists were dispersed after 40 minutes of hard fighting.

Three hours later, another Chinese force of the same size struck Korean positions on the east flank of Sniper Ridge. This fight lasted for 20 minutes. Then the Chinese withdrew.

Through the night the batteries of Allied searchlights turned the battlefield into day. No more Chinese tried to come at the heights.

Bad weather limited air blows. Those pilots who went aloft claimed destruction of 20 troop buildings and damage to one rail bridge.

Casualties Up 1,318 In Week

Washington (AP) — The Defense Department yesterday reported 1,318 Americans killed, wounded or missing in Korea—the biggest casualty list in a year.

The new figures raised total U. S. casualties to 125,887 since the war began in June, 1950.

The figure announced yesterday was the highest weekly toll since Nov. 14, 1951, when 1712 casualties were announced. The highest for the entire Korean War was 3,336, made public Oct. 5, 1950, and the lowest was 123, reported March 26, 1952.

The Defense Department's weekly summary based on notifications to families through last Friday, included 266 killed, bringing the war's total of killed in action to 19,712.

Stores To Sell Defense Bonds

Harrisburg (AP) — Plans were laid last night for Pennsylvania to lead the way in a nation-wide program to promote the sale of U. S. defense bonds in America's retail stores.

A meeting of department store executives from all parts of the state agreed on full participation in the initial effort to move defense bonds through retail selling outlets.

Players Prefer Game To Banquet

Pittsburgh, (AP) — Some wives complain their husbands would rather see a sports event than eat. Now 125 mothers have the same complaint.

Members of the Monessen Midgely Football League were polled on whether they would hold an annual banquet or take in Saturday's collegiate gridiron battle between North Carolina State and Pitt here.

The players will be at the football game.

Voting Machines To Be Delivered For Spring Primaries

County Plans Purchase Of At Least 20

New voting machines will be delivered in time for use in the spring primaries in Monroe County.

That was the statement of commissioners following discussions this week with John Wolfe, Cresco, representing the Automatic Voting Machine Co.

This company furnished the machines used last week for the first time in four of the county's voting districts, as well as the two used in Barrett for the past 17 years.

Commissioners haven't decided yet exactly how many machines will be needed. The number will probably be from 20 to 26.

Wolfe said his company could make delivery in time for use at the primaries.

The price on Automatic's voting machines has risen $100 since commissioners contracted for the most recently-purchased ones.

However at that time the board also took an option on 14 additional machines at the same price—$1219.

This week, following a conference with Wolfe, the board said it will get the same price not only for the 14 machines on which it held the option, but on as many more as it decides to purchase.

The exact number to be purchased, and the time of awarding the contract, will be decided at forthcoming meetings of commissioners. Price and Tunkhannock will be the only two districts for whom paper ballots must be printed at the primaries next year.

Wild Animals Being Moved

About 70 of the larger animals that comprise the stock of Pocono Wild Animal Farm are currently being transported to the Catskill Mountains for the winter months. Many of the smaller animals still will remain on location here, it was learned. The farm, operated by Dr. Claude W. Leister, closed Monday after playing host to about 51,000 persons this summer, with about four adults visiting the farm to every child.

Dr. Leister noted the largest animal, the eland, an African antelope, is among those being taken to New York State. Value of this one animal alone was placed at $1,000. Only one casualty was reported this summer: a deer that fractured his neck when he ran into a fence after being frightened by a dog. The farm will reopen in the Spring.

State Road Crews Ready For Winter

Monroe County's annual struggle against snow and ice on the State's highway system will be met head-on this year, Arthur Dinstell, superintendent of the county highway department revealed last night.

Plans for the movement were discussed at the district office in Allentown yesterday. Dinstell said Monroe County highways will be adequately patrolled by 30 trucks, six graders, five tractors and five loaders for cinders. Upwards of 70 men will be utilized to cover the county's more than 492 miles of state roads, he added.

Radio equipment is installed in three cars and one truck, Dinstell said, with transmission originating at the East Stroudsburg office of the highway department. Reports are sent in at 7 a.m. and relayed to Harrisburg in the afternoon so a complete tab of the entire 67 counties is available on call.

Throughout the State some 12,000 men and in excess of 7,000 units of snow and ice-fighting equipment will be directed to efforts of the field forces. Well in advance of the season's first snows, cinder and slag stockpiles were built up with about 600,000 tons of abrasives.

E. L. Schmidt, secretary of highways, has noted that snow plows and other equipment used in the battle have been repaired and made ready. Iron guide stakes have been driven along the highways and nearly 15,000,000 feet of snow fencing placed in locations where it will deflect drifts from the roadway.

About 20,000 miles of highway are on the initial snow removal schedule, Schmidt said. The equipment will be put to work simultaneously on this mileage and after it is made safe for traffic the plows will be moved over to the secondary roads on the schedule.

During the winter, district and county maintenance headquarters will be staffed 24 hours daily. Men will keep in constant touch with the weather bureaus and alert forces at the first indication of snow or sleet. The number of men called into action will vary with the intensity of the storm and its duration, Schmidt said.

The cost of the tremendous effort to keep traffic moving over Pennsylvania's highway system also varies each year with the extent, frequency and depth of snow and ice. Schmidt said it is seldom under $5,000,000 and was as high as $9,000,000 in the winter of 1950-51.

The meat of watermelons varies in sweetness, fiber and color, ranging from dark red through pink to yellow.

CIO Delays Convention Two Weeks

Pittsburgh, (AP)—CIO leaders decided yesterday to delay their 14th annual convention two weeks and shift it from Los Angeles to Atlantic City.

The decision to open the convention Monday, Dec. 1, instead of next Monday was made because of the death Sunday of CIO President Philip Murray. The group took no action on naming a new president.

The shift was recommended by the nine CIO vice presidents who conferred here with Executive Vice President Allan S. Haywood. Their recommendation is certain to be ratified when the Executive Board convenes in Pittsburgh Friday.

A solemn requiem mass will be held for the late labor leader at 11 a. m. today in St. Paul's Cathedral in Pittsburgh. Burial will be in St. Anne's Cemetery in suburban Castle Shannon.

Security Not A Matter Of Material Things, Red Cap Tells Overflow Audience

A porter who discovered that he not only "could carry a man's bags but also help carry his burdens," last night spoke to an audience which filled the sanctuary of the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church to capacity. He shared his experience as Red Cap 42, whose prayer meetings in an empty railroad coach on Track 13 at Grand Central Terminal in New York have inspired feature stories in several national magazines.

Ralston Young was the featured speaker at the men's night celebration during the 125th anniversary month of the church, and special guests were the members of the newly-organized Inter-Church Men's Council of which John Pennington is president. The crowd filled balconies, choir lofts and extra chairs brought in for the service.

Speaking simply, Mr. Young told of how the example of an old woman had brought home to him that security was not a matter of material things, but of a realization of the love of God for man, and his desire to share that discovery with others.

The layman, he said, often has opportunities not open to the clergy, in meeting people when they are tired, discouraged or in despair, and need someone to talk to—especially someone who can lead them to the realization that God cares for them.

A man who is sensitive to the needs of people, and genuinely seeks to help them to a positive life in Christ need fear no rebuff, he said. Young described experiences during the past eight years when he has been meeting every Monday, Wednesday and Friday with those who have never known the church or who have never realized their part, as laymen, in every-day practice of religion.

Mr. and Mrs. Young were the guests at a family night supper at the church before the meeting, attended by some 100 persons from many of the congregations represented at the meeting. Mrs. Young also spoke informally at the supper.

Note for Nimrods

Each time the hunting season opens in Pennsylvania, there is always considerable doubt about who will win out—the hunters or the hunted. And whether the casualty list will be longer on the human side or for the animals.

This year seems to be no exception. The season was only a few hours old when several Western Pennsylvania hunters were hospitalized with wounds and one man was killed.

Seven Pennsylvania hunters were killed in the field in 1950 and 15 last year. As more and more take to the woods, that figure may be expected to rise again this season unless—

Each and every hunter obeys the State game laws strictly and also follows even more closely the rules of common sense.

Some of them, as laid down by the Pennsylvania Safety Council, are:

Treat every gun as if it were loaded. Don't carry loaded weapons in your car. Don't point a gun at anything you don't intend to shoot.

Be sure of what you are shooting at when you do shoot.

Don't climb trees or fences with a loaded gun. Carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle. Gunpowder and alcohol don't mix.

Founder of a Nation

The kingdom of Israel existed for centuries only in the hearts of the Jewish people, who never forgot its past glories and never ceased to dream that it would some day be restored.

One of them, Chaim Weizmann, did more than dream—he devoted his life and his remarkable talents to making Israel a reality. That new republic owes its existence more to his efforts than to those of any other individual.

It was logical that he became its first president, an office he occupied with dignity and statesmanship until his death Sunday.

President Weizmann was also a distinguished scientist, and few men contributed as much to the winning of both World Wars. He developed a synthetic acetone for Britain in 1916 at a time it was gravely needed to make explosives. And in World War II he was enormously helpful to our synthetic rubber program.

Offered a title by the grateful British, Dr. Weizmann replied, "There is only one thing I want—a national home for my people."

The result was the famous Balfour Declaration which paved the way for the foundation of Israel. The American people, both Jew and Gentile, gave generously to build the new state, which meant more to this modest man than would have any personal reward.

Chaim Weizmann died without accomplishing his last great ambition—to bring peace between Israel and its Arab neighbors. But the other achievements of this extraordinary man stand as a monument to his statesmanship and vision.

THE FORMATION OF THE CABINET

In the United States, Cabinet officers are secretaries and assistants to the President. They hold office at his option. They are elected to no office and have no independent constituencies. They usually are members of the President's party, although he may appoint citizens who are of the opposite party or of no party at all.

President-elect Eisenhower will have a difficult time choosing his Cabinet, because of his newness to political life. With hardly a working majority in either house of Congress, he is politically dependent upon a Republican-Southern Democrat coalition through which he must get appropriations for his various departments. That coalition can make or break his Administration, because they can withhold, reduce, or delay appropriations. Committees of Congress can also hold up confirmations of persons he appoints or can delay such ratifications or hold unpleasant and prolonged hearings in public. Each member of the Cabinet has to be confirmed by the Senate.

Guess-lists, issued by various prophets, of prospective Cabinet officers have most of them coming from the Eastern Seaboard—principally New York. This is politically impossible. The basic strength of his party is still in the Middle West, which cannot be ignored in Cabinet appointments. If New York gets too many seats, it may prove one too many. California has the Vice President and therefore more than one Cabinet member from California would be high. The Southern Democrats who deserted party regularly to vote for Eisenhower are entitled to Cabinet recognition. The Taft Republicans, who constitute the largest element in the Republican Party, will have to be recognized.

Geographical appointments are normal to American political life. It is a recognition of the structure of American society based upon our history. We are a federation of 48 sovereign states.

Furthermore, New York is disliked and distrusted in most parts of the United States, the assumption being that it is a city divided between Wall Street plutocrats and Stork Club wisecrackers. Organization Republicans, who have labored in the desert for 20 years, will expect recognition.

The Republican Party consists of three basic elements: 1. The Taft Republicans; 2. The Young Republicans (since 1932); 3. The New Republicans (those who came into the party with Eisenhower).

Amity was achieved within the party largely through the efforts of Robert A. Taft and Herbert Hoover. It can almost be said that Taft campaigned as hard as Eisenhower did. That was essential, as otherwise a large number of Republicans would not have voted—enough possibly to change the outcome of the election. Herbert Hoover fought the tendency to sabotage Eisenhower from the day Eisenhower was nominated. It can be said that the Republican Party had not been as united since 1928 as it was in 1952 and that Taft and Hoover achieved that unity for Eisenhower.

The Young Republicans were divided between the Taft and Eisenhower elements. They have had no governmental experience, except perhaps in Congress or in offices under the New Deal during the war. However, many of them have been effective party workers during the past 20 years. In the course of the next decade, they will take over the Republican Party and will run it. Most of them must be idealistically Republicans or they would not have chosen careers in a defeated party and stayed with it through the bleak years of failure.

The New Republicans have no history in the Republican Party except in this campaign. Few even know their names. Their loyalty is to Eisenhower the man, not to the party. Politically, they are expected to wait their turn. If too many are elevated to high position before they have won confidence, it may hurt Eisenhower's chances of having smooth sailing in Congress.

Were the Republican working majorities in the two houses of Congress notable, these distinctions would not matter. However with the slim majority that the Republicans have (no actual working majority in either house) the greatest care must be taken to maintain the unity in the party achieved during the campaign. This will require political astuteness of the highest order. Roosevelt had a prolonged honeymoon period; Eisenhower will not have that because the Democrats will seek to rebuild their party as rapidly as possible, with a view to recapturing Congress in 1954.

That is why Cabinet appointments are so important.

Jack Laft has discovered why hoboes don't ride freights any more. Fifteen years ago, railroad dicks collared 250 rod-riders a month; today they don't catch a dozen a year. Reasons: 1. New train designs are death on free riders, with no more truss rods under cars, etc. 2. Diesel engines have no tenders—once the hoboes' favorite "Pullmans." 3. High-powered locomotives throw back so much steam that any outside rider may be scalded to death. So hoboes have readjusted their travel habits. They thumb rides in comfortable sedans.

Dick Tregaskis, famous for his "Guadalcanal Diary," tells about the Englishman, Arabian, and Yank who were conversing on a Casablanca street when a spectacular Oriental beauty anked by. The Englishman exclaimed, "By jove!" The Arabian murmured, "By Allah!" The Yank breathed, "By tomorrow night!"

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Washington—There was a nervous moment at the Republican National Committee during the campaign to convince Texas to vote for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The GOP received rush orders for 139 of its visual aid machines for distribution in Texas, only to react in horror with the realization that the most popular film strip and sound track, which displayed administration blunders in Korea, opened with the song, "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

They should have relaxed. Texans, and in fact a majority of the rest of our southern residents, Republicans and Democrats alike, have long since learned to love this great song as a rightful part of American heritage.

I know, because on a trip to Houston not too long ago, when I presented my Hollywood, Maryland church choir to two thousand and Texans in the Shamrock Hotel, the final hymn was this old and beautiful song. My youngsters still recall the standing ovation they received.

The incident, however, highlights the uncharted course that the GOP National committee embarked on when I decided to use visual aids for the first time in a nationwide political campaign. In their post-election analysis, GOP experts are convinced that visual aid strips are more effective than many of the costly television programs used by candidates. There were 1,136 machines in operation, with seven separate films, including the one on Korea. Others were socialism, inflation, taxes and Truman administration scandals.

Along with the visual aid strip on Truman scandals, the GOP substituted an 18-foot banner, "22 White House scandals, the defense department; 10 the RFC; 48 in the Bureau of Internal Revenue; 8 in the justice department and 78 in the department of agriculture. Others less numerous were in the maritime commission, state, treasury, interior, commerce and post office departments.

In a poll of 70 cities and countries where the film strips and sound tracks were used extensively the GOP analysis of Korea was the most popular. Taxes were second and inflation third in effectiveness.

The film strips were shown in schools, churches, clubs, political

BIG ONE THAT GOT AWAY

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

Two fellows in Detroit were arrested and haled before the judge.

There was a rumrump in one of the streets.

These two fellows were shaking dice with some others and one of the other players accused the two of having loaded dice.

Both denied owning the dice.

They were honest working men, they swore by everything that is holy, and shook the dice only occasionally for a little recreation and exercise.

In court they were equally indignant at the disgrace of being arrested and told the judge they had no idea how the cop could accuse them of owning the crooked cubes.

"Patrolman Berryman," thundered the judge, "did you take these dice without a search warrant?"

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

A Round Of Golf With Ike First Hole—Ike starts for tee but is halted by message from White House which he knows will add five strokes to the first nine holes. He reaches tee and is trying to relax when a courier arrives with supplementary note. It causes him to push his drive into rough. He gets out in two strokes which is not bad, considering the world crisis. He gets a good third shot, due to the fact there is no further word from Washington on that hole. He dubs his approach on a report another courier has been sighted. Upon making the green he takes two extra putts because of the Korean situation and two because of news from Berlin.

Second Hole—Ike is into his backswing when he gets an inquiry from President Truman asking what date he will require a plane to Korea. He goes so deep into the rough that he thinks he is already in Korea. Finds ball under a rock between five cameramen and seven correspondents. He claims right to lift ball under a rule that correspondents are in such shape because of wrong election predictions that they constitute "ground under repair." Gets on to green in ten, with four strokes missing. Opponent refuses to grant him a two-inch putt. Ike finds that while an opponent he will never concede him a putt.

Third Hole—He dubs his drive, due to a message from Arthur Summerfield and Senator Taft. After missing his second shot the caddy hands him a different club. "Why a different club?" he asks. "It's time for a change," says the caddy. He gets to green in six. A courier arrives with a top secret message. Ike takes seven putts and classifies his score as top secret.

Fourth Hole—He asks if any couriers are in sight before he addresses the ball. Gets a negative reply. He has become so accustomed to interruptions that the lack of one throws him off his game even more. His short drive bounces from a political correspondent to a newscast camera to a newspaper photographer to a couple of spectators and lands in a trap. "You should have brought a bigger niblick," says the caddy. "I should have brought NATO," replies Ike. (The score on this hole is referred to United Nations.)

Fifth Hole—He gets a fine

drive. Two more couriers fly in with message from Truman. Ultimately making the green, he finds top-secret letters from the Central Intelligence Bureau, Senator Milliken and the manager of his Gettysburg farm. The war news, the budgetary situation and the hay bills cost him nine putts. He decides he is not even a world war golfer (out in 41, back in 46).

Eighteenth Hole (Two hours later)—Flash: With 13 holes missing, Eisenhower's total score is declared enemy propaganda.

We were out fishing the other day and encountered a fishless angler who complained, "They bit better before Ike got in." . . . A kid held in a double murder was a follower of video horror films . . . One story is that when asked just when he found the crime telecast he replied, "Al-ways between the screening of the Seal of Good Practice and the Code of Morals" . . . Why shouldn't Ike Eisenhower play a fairly good golf game? . . . Having driven the English Channel, a waterhole never bothers him . . . We hear that on an important shot Ike heard a locomotive whistle blow and looked up . . . Thought it was another whistle stop . . . We hope Ike will decide one vacation as a result of his Georgia vocation: does golf come under the head of war or peace? . . . "Truman told Stevenson he regarded him as head of the Party and would do everything to help him" . . . If this doesn't scare Adlai stiff nothing will . . . Ina Dodo thinks the new drama "Climate of Eden" is a story of England's famous Anthony . . . Johnnie Ray is to do a movie . . . "The Shrike," "The Far Cry" or "Lost Weep End" . . . (That's w-e-e-p, Mr. Printer.) . . . Kenneth Wynne, Jr., son of a Connecticut high-court jurist, is doing sensational work as a video director in the Nutmeg State . . . Eisenhower is so hot that fire wardens are closing him to all hunters . . . In our book Margaret Sullivan, despite some of the raves, is miscast in "The Deep Blue Sea" and never remotely suggests the vivid, violently emotional, highly temperamental type of woman who would fling over a rich husband for a shallow heel . . . "Does that mean we can't play basketball?" asked one of the three crooked players warned by the court that they had been let off lightly on the understanding they must not engage in sports for three years . . . Was he being sarcastic or plain stupid? . . . What did Wayne Morse mean by saying he would send no congrats to Ike "because I am no hypocrite" . . . Is a good sport a hypocrite,

Kiwanis Club Awards Prizes To Students

Rev. Ernest T. Campbell, pastor of the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church, commended the Kiwanis Club of Stroudsburg for making possible rewards for young people engaged in agriculture and home-making projects at the annual Kiwanis agriculture meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel yesterday afternoon.

President Gilbert L. Smrz was in charge of the meeting attended by 106 persons. Prizes were awarded to 13 Monroe County high school students, five homemakers and eight who engaged in agriculture projects. Wilmer B. Frisbie, chairman of the club agriculture committee, presented the prizes, nine first prizes of $3 cash and four second with $2 cash and colorful ribbons.

First prize winners in home-making were: Jeanette Saxe, Chestnut Hill High; Shirley E. Serfass, Polk; Jacqueline Werkheiser, Pocono; Barbara Kemmerer, Stroudsburg; and Josephine Smith, Tobyhanna Twp.

Winners of first prize in agriculture follow: Richard Nelson, Chestnut Hill; Robert Field, Pocono; Alton Kleintop, Polk; and Howard Blakeslee, Stroudsburg. Second prize awards went to Robert Altomose, Chestnut Hill; Richard Graeber, Pocono; Franklin Smith, Polk; and Glenn Detrick, Stroudsburg.

Miss Smith, who is fourth vice president of the Pennsylvania Future Homemakers of America, gave a brief talk outlining the aims and operation of the group.

Thomas E. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rogers, Stroudsburg RD, graduate of Stroudsburg High School in the class of 1945, who was awarded the American Farmer degree for 1952 at Kansas City last month, which honor goes to but one boy in a thousand in a state, was also presented as were his parents. Tom gave an interesting review of his career as a student and farm work at present and improvements that had been made to the family farm.

Rev. Campbell called attention of the young people to the important part their contribution plays in the security of the nation and the satisfaction of creative living, which thousands avoid. The man who works with his hands in the field, works with God and is a co-laborer with God, he said, adding their vocation is not inferior to others, that all are dependent on God.

Another feature of the meeting was presentation by President Smrz to Lawrence W. Ross, a Legion of Honor certificate from Kiwanis International and the 25-year button. Mr. Ross has been a Kiwanian 25 years, affiliating first

Television Transmission Described

Television signals can be sent 25 or 30 miles through the air using only half a watt of electrical power—approximately what is used by a small flashlight—Howard T. Davenport, public relations representative of the Bell Telephone

Howard T. Davenport

Company of Pennsylvania, said last night in speaking at a meeting of the Tobyhanna Lions Club at the Tobyhanna Inn.

Using giant lenses which focus the signals into a sharp beam, television programs are sent from coast to coast by means of "radio relay," a series of towers which pass the signals from one to another, he said. The same circuits can be used for the transmission of hundreds of telephone conversations.

Explaining that the Bell System's part in television is primarily that of carrying programs from one city to another, Davenport said that nearly 80,000 miles of television circuits are already available to broadcasters and the networks are continuing to expand. Many thousands of miles are in radio relay systems and the remainder are provided by coaxial cable.

"Radio relay waves are only three inches long and vibrate at a frequency of four thousand million times a second," he explained. "Because they are so small, they are called microwaves. These very short waves are not affected by static from lightning, ignition systems, electric motors or other man-made devices, as are the longer waves used for radio broadcasting."

Such a radio relay system is now in operation between New York and the Pacific coast, using a total of 107 towers, many of them located on mountain tops. It passes through Pennsylvania, where 13 of the towers are located.

"These radio relay and coaxial cable networks of the Bell System hold tremendous possibilities for service to the Nation," he added. "Their primary purpose is to make available for the people of America an ever increasing number of voice pathways for more and better low-cost telephone service. That was the objective when they were first conceived and that is still the objective of the Bell System as they continue to expand," said Davenport.

Anna Logans Fruit Cakes Baking Well

The holiday fruit cakes being turned out this week by the Anna Logan Society of the General Hospital on an assembly line basis are the best in recent years, according to the committee. They are more crammed with fruit and the new ovens at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church are baking them to perfection.

Since they have increased the quality fruitcakes may still be ordered this week through Mrs. Eva Brodsky or Mrs. Joseph Kushner and will be delivered by the committee.

The big cake baking-spre began on Monday night when all the members of the Anna Logan Society met at the church to cut up ingredients for the cakes. As they worked they completed plans for the birthday and social calendars which they are preparing.

Refreshments were served by Miss Isabelle Finn and her committee. The fruit cake committee is continuing to work in shifts this week baking the cakes.

Members Star In Comedy At Press Auxiliary

A comedy by the members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Pressman's Union on Tuesday night delighted the members at their meeting at the CLU club. With Edna Topfer as narrator, Dot Andress, Jean Andress, Florence Sirotho, Alma Dellaria, Elsie Rodgers, Alberta Gougher and Sonya James portrayed their roles with skill.

During the business meeting plans were made for the Christmas party in December when secret pals will exchange gifts and there will be a grab bag of $1 items brought by the members. The auxiliary also planned to adopt a needy family as a Christmas project.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served from a table decorated for Armistice Day by Frances Arnold, Dorothy Andress, and Edna Topfer.

Mrs. Keenhold Is Honored At Baby Shower

D. Frankenkfield, Mrs. Frank Hochriner and the guest of honor, Mrs. Keenhold. Refreshments were served and cards were enjoyed.

The benefit party scheduled by the Sons of Veterans Auxiliary for tonight has been postponed.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Olives stuffed too tightly in a bottle, are bound to be mangle getting them out. Ideas are much the same. One single, well-rounded idea that you can observe from every angle before using would be ideal, but they seldom come out that way.

Think what you could do with the smells drifting up the steps from the basement of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church—smells that need only a whiff of balsam to waft you right into the Christmas season. The smells of sugar and spice and everything nice that the Anna Logans are baking in their fruit cakes.

Or think what you could do with the idea of inter-church cooperation, with one church moving up its service and another moving its service back so that they could join in a common meeting of minds.

And Ralston Young, Redcap 42, in his talk last night suggested enough good ideas to keep a thoughtful mind supplied for months, with the strongest one, perhaps, being the idea that any one in any occupation can this very day do something helpful by merely keeping his eyes open for his fellow human's needs.

And there was Mrs. Young's delightful little talk which was another proof that behind many a good man there stands a good woman.

Oh, it's no use to make a picture of this busy day—you'll have to turn the kaleidoscope, and make your own pictures, my pets.

Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 10:15 a.m.

Hospital Aux. Musical In December

The Woman's Auxiliary of the General Hospital are planning a Christmas Musical to be held at the home of Mrs. Ernest H. Wyckoff, Thomas Street on December 9. It is to be a dessert meeting at 1:30 to which members of the Anna Logan and the Barrett Auxiliary of the hospital are invited.

At this meeting, every member is asked to bring a Christmas gift, wrapped and labeled whether it is for a man, woman, or child, with the gifts to be turned over to the hospital to be given to patients who need the holiday cheer by the hospital staff.

Mrs. Verner Reynolds and Mrs. Harry Albert will assist Mrs. Wyckoff in serving dessert at this meeting.

Plans were made at the meeting of the auxiliary held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joseph Noonan on the college campus when Mrs. George Hauser the president, welcomed many members who have not been attending meetings recently.

A period of cards followed the business meeting. Tea was served from a decorated tea table by Mrs. Noonan, Mrs. C. W. Dupree, Mrs. Nathan Meyer, Mrs. A. S. Phelps and Mrs. T. R. Breitwieser.

THE Wyckoff
SHOPPER

I spent part of yesterday afternoon in elegant company, and it's going to be somewhat difficult to get my head out of the clouds. Somehow, I never dreamed I'd be hobnobbing intimately with the Empress Eugenie, Madame de Pompadour, and the other darlings of the French court. But anything can happen in my favorite store!

The "dollings" came to Stroudsburg yesterday in little boxes with the very French label "Les Poupées Cadette". Standing nine inches tall, they have delightfully tinted bisque faces with eyes of blue glass. And the more expensive of them have wigs of real hair, lacquered in the fashion of a bygone day. Pompadour wears a snow-white wig with flowers tucked here and there. Eugenie wears her reddish brown locks in long curls, enticingly youthful under a tiny hat with swooping feathers.

A gown of heavy ribbed silk in a neutral tone falls in elegant folds from the hard, composition body of the Empress. The workmanship is flawless, even to the small edging of lace that peeks from inside the snug collar and cuffs of her gown. Her tiny waist is nipped in to a fraction of nothing, amazingly smart above the wide, flaring skirt interlined with crinoline. A tiny parasol of lace with one layer of ruffles above another, is tucked under her arm.

The Pompadour is equally imposing in a gown of gold brocade with self-color figures in which is an almost imperceptible touch of green. Her bodice is adorned with peach colored bows, flattering to her delicately painted complexion, and the wide skirt has stylish paniers. Both of these glamorous ladies have a circular disk that enables them to stand on their own two feet. They are priced at $12.50.

Other dolls, representing the traditional belles of French provinces, are priced at $6.98. Their costumes are authentic, and they are as exquisite as their more regal sisters, but less expensively assembled, with eyes that are painted. Many of these wear lace headresses, gold crosses at their neck, and hairdos of tiny braids that are so precise and perfect they make one laugh. These are $6.98. As toys, these dolls are only for the more mature child who will appreciate their perfection. Actually, they are beautiful collectors' items for doll lovers of any age.

Queen Victoria is in the group too—but for some reason she isn't quite as glamorous as the French ladies. Of course, as I said before, these are FRENCH dolls. Whether you speak their language or not, you'll find they can win your heart in a twinkling.

Want to save 21 cents? Mae Coffman just called to tell me of a special on bras—regularly priced at $1, these are now reduced to 79c for the early shoppers. In cotton, satin, and nylon they are real bargains.

Bloodmobile Visit Set For Nov. 21

A bloodmobile unit of the American Red Cross will appear Nov. 21 at the Elks Home, East Stroudsburg. It was announced last night by LeRoy Mikels, chairman for the blood bank in this region.

With only two drives remaining before January 1, Mikels said 376 pints of blood must be obtained if Monroe County is to meet its quota.

The unit will be stationed at the Elks Home from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mikels also stated the demand for blood, both from Monroe County General Hospital and from the Armed Forces, is greatly increased and the need therefore is much greater.

Among the groups cooperating with the drive this period is the Alpha Phi Omega fraternity of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, Mikels said. The group, whose object is to promote national service, has agreed to co-operate fully with the campaign and will solicit from college students for this drive, Mikels said.

At least 188 pints will have to be donated this time, and the remaining 188 pints contributed before the year ends, Mikels said in appealing for donors.

Public Hearing May Be Called In Coal Appeal

Washington (AP)—A public hearing is believed to be the next step in Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam's plans to settle the soft coal wage appeal, officials said yesterday.

Putnam has asked the Wage Stabilization Board on how he should proceed in the appeal, filed by President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers and a major portion of the soft coal industry.

Putnam was reported yesterday ready to announce later this week the specifics of how he will handle the situation. It is believed that a public hearing on all the evidence already presented privately to the WSB and any new evidence Lewis and the operators may wish to present will be the next step.

The WSB refused to approve 40 cents of the $1.90 daily wage hike negotiated by Lewis with the soft coal operators. The board's refusal was on the ground the increase would be inflationary.

Mary Sue Harvey, center, standing, plays the "bride," while members of her family are shown seated around the table. G.I. Parcel Deadline Set Saturday, Nov. 15 has been designated by postal officials as the final assured date for acceptance of Christmas parcels for members of the Armed Forces serving outside the continental United States. They have advised that the public can be reasonably sure that parcels mailed before that date will reach their destination in time for Christmas. After Saturday the postal authorities recommend use of air parcel post.

Restrictions on air parcel post for personnel of the Armed Forces serving overseas or on naval vessels, limit the size to 30 inches in length and girth combined and two pounds in weight. Authorities also advise that air parcels be shipped not later than Nov. 25 to arrive in time for Christmas.

Civil Defense Movie Shown

East Stroudsburg High School students yesterday saw a film describing Civil Defense measures during an atomic bomb attack. The film, "You Can Beat the A-Bomb," produced and directed by RKO films, was distributed by the C.D. for use in schools.

An all-high school assembly program was arranged for the showing of the film.

Life of Riley

Sports Editor

Here it is Thursday again and time to take on an addition headache, but there's always the consolation that the season is drawing to an end and there are very few more Thursdays to worry about, at least this year. Last weekend's slate found us on the right end of 11 choices and wrong on 17 occasions, of which three were ties. The season's percentage mark at the present time is .726 and all signs at the present time point to it being much lower by the time the final football game is played this fall. The season's total thus far is 316 right and 119 wrong.

East Stroudsburg High will make its bid for at least a tie in the Lehigh-Northampton League flag race on Saturday, when the Cavaliers take the measure of Nazareth, by a score of something like 20-7. It's going to be a rough and hotly played ball game, but it's my firm belief that the charges of Coach Jack Kist have come too far to be turned back at this date. While Eastburg is battling Nazareth, Stroudsburg will be at Gordon Giffels field with Northampton, the power of the Lehigh Valley League.

Maybe I'm far off the beam, but I have a hunch that the Mountaineers are ready to pull the upset of the year in local scholastic ranks, by knocking the Konkretes out of a first place tie in the Lehigh Valley League. Stroudsburg, from this angle, appears to be the winner by an 18-14 count, in a real good ball game. East Stroudsburg State Teachers College winds up its season Saturday, also at home, while playing host to Arnold. Arnold reportedly has a good team this year, but the Warriors would like nothing better than to win the final encounter. ESSTC by a 21-13 count.

Bangor, featuring a better team than its present record of three wins and five setbacks indicates, will take the measure of Slatington, at Slatington, by something like 20-7. That's it for the local front and with all fingers and toes crossed, let's delve into the national scene, a boiling pot if I ever saw one. Although Penn apparently isn't the team we thought it was a few weeks ago the Quakers should have enough to sink Army, while Boston College nips Xavier in a close battle and Boston University runs over New York University.

Harvard will trounce Brown, Bucknell will down Gettysburg, Syracuse will edge Colgate and Navy will sink Columbia. Dartmouth appears too strong for Cornell and Temple looks like the winner over Fordham, in another very close battle. Holy Cross rates a slight edge over the Quantic Marines, while Delaware dumps Lafayette and Penn State rolls up the score against Rutgers. Pitt will decision North Carolina State and Princeton rates a timid nod over Yale in a very good ball game.

Tulsa rates a slim edge over Detroit while Wichita looks like the winner over Drake, Illinois will topple Ohio State, Wisconsin will down Indiana and Northwestern is too strong for Iowa. Kansas will return to its winning habit against Oklahoma A&M, while Colorado tops Kansas State and Purdue nips Michigan. Michigan State is my choice over Notre Dame in one of the top games of the day, while Minnesota trips Nebraska and Oklahoma bounces back with a victory over Missouri. Georgia Tech will keep rolling against Alabama while Georgia trips Auburn and Chattanooga downs Tampa.

VMI will decision The Citadel, while Kentucky clips Clemson. George Washington blasts Davidson and Duke finds its winning combination again and downs Wake Forest. Tennessee will decision Florida, while Furman topples Florida State, Louisiana State downs Mississippi State and Maryland decisions Mississippi. Miami is too strong for Stetson and North Carolina will break its long losing habit by downing South Carolina, but by only the narrowest of margins, and Virginia rolls over Richmond. Vanderbilt will edge Tulane, West Virginia will nip VPI and Cincinnati will defeat Washington and Lee.

Southern Methodists appear to be the winner over Arkansas, while Baylor trims Houston and Texas A&M decisions Rice. Texas should take the measure of Texas Christian and Texas Tech looks like the winner over Hardin-Simmons. Arizona receives a timid nod over Texas Western, while Brigham Young appears too strong for Utah State and New Mexico decisions Colorado A&M. Santa Clara will take the measure of Utah.

On the Pacific Coast it appears to be California over Washington State, Oregon State over Idaho and Stanford as the winner over Oregon. College of the Pacific will trounce Fresno State, and San Jose State will clip Pepperdine. Southern California rates the nod over Washington by one touchdown, in another of the weekend's top games, as the final selection on today's agenda. The list of games looks harmless at this hour, but late Saturday afternoon it will be a nightmare.

East Stroudsburg To Play Twenty Basketball Games

Campaign Opens With Phillipsburg

East Stroudsburg High school will take part in 20 basketball games this season and in an additional court tournament, it was revealed by the release of the 1952-53 schedule. Eighteen of the games are currently on the agenda, with the dates for the two East Stroudsburg-Stroudsburg tussles still to be set.

The Cavaliers are also scheduled to take part in the Lehigh Valley League Invitation Basketball Tournament, to be held at Slatington's Smith Hall, during the Christmas holiday season.

Coach Dick Forster's purple and white clad eagles open the 1952-1953 campaign by playing Phillipsburg High on the N. Courtland St. hardwood, on Tuesday, December 9.

Closing Contest
The campaign is scheduled to close on the home court too, with Nazareth supplying the opposition on Friday, February 27.

A break-down of the schedule shows four games to be played in December, eight in January and eight in February. However, the contests with Stroudsburg will probably be played in December and February.

When the two "Battles of the Boroughs" are added to the schedule, it will feature 10 games at home and the same number on the road.

Zero Results In Confusion

Nineteen victorious teams were correctly named by the winners of The Daily Record football contest for the week ending November 8.

The winners were announced yesterday, but a zero inadvertently crept into the place of the figure nine and the intended numerals 19 came out as 10 in the first paragraph of the announcement.

Correct
Later in the same article it was correctly stated that the winning contestants had named 19 victorious teams. The football contest editor has expressed regret that a typographical error caused some confusion and consternation among many contestants who were right in their contention that they had better scores than the announced score of the winners.

Big Seven Votes Against Bowls

Kansas City, (AP) — No Big Seven Conference football team will play in a post-season bowl game, the conference faculty representatives decided last night.

Special Meeting
The faculty group voted in a special meeting to abide by the conference's present rule which prohibits any post-season competition.

The meeting was called following reports that Oklahoma and possibly other members of the conference had received inquiries from the Sugar Bowl, Cotton Bowl and Orange Bowl about their availability.

Attendance Figures Increase In National Football Circuit

Philadelphia, (AP) — Attendance at National Football League games this year has increased almost three percent over the same number of games a year ago, an Associated Press survey disclosed yesterday.

Seven teams in the 12 club circuit showed boosts over 1951 figures, three a slight drop and one, the world champion Los Angeles Rams, are considerably behind last year's figures.

Games
Commissioner Bert Bell said that through the first 36 games of this year—exactly half the schedule—NFL teams have drawn

1,046,523 paid admissions, 26,763 more than clicked the turnstiles during the same period last year.

The commissioner also pointed out that a comparison of 36 games this year in comparison with games between the same teams of 1951 shows an increase of 121,301 customers. He said that this type of comparison, in his mind, gives a better indication of the attendance trend for the entire year.

Bell attributed the general increase to the fact that both divisions of the NFL are being closely contested. Both races are so close playoffs may be necessary.

PGA Rejects Tourney Proposal

Chicago, (AP) — The Professional Golfers Association yesterday rejected, 46 to 7, a proposal to modify the match-play system of the National PGA Tourney.

The proposal had called for 72 holes of medal play to produce a match-play championship field of the 15 low scorers and the defending champion.

Continue
The 36-year-old National meet will continue to be strictly match play after two days of qualifying to determine a 64-man field.

Although club pros were said to be violently opposed to the change which they said almost excluded the chance of a lesser light winning, a number of tourney circuit pros also were reported against the proposal.

Earlier in yesterday's session, the PGA was authorized to shift headquarters from Chicago to Dunedin, Fla., where the organization has its national club.

Selkirk Enters Trotting Field

Harrisburg, (AP) — George Selkirk, former New York Yankee outfielder, and now manager of the Kansas City Blues, bought a yearling trotter yesterday to join the expanding ranks of harness race owners.

Sale
Selkirk paid $1,000 for Sampson Tass, a California-bred son of Arletan-Susan Bagley, at the standard bred horse auction sale here.

"I'm going to train and break him myself," Selkirk said. "I know he'll provide a lot of pleasure and there might even be a little profit if he's good enough."

Truman To See Contest

Washington, (AP) — President Truman will attend the Army-Navy football game in Philadelphia, November 29, the White House said yesterday.

Hayes Stops DeJohn In Third

Detroit, (AP) — Norman Hayes, 160½, knocked out Joey DeJohn, 165, in the third round of their nationally televised fight last night by flattening DeJohn three times moments after Joey thought he was on the verge of whipping Hayes with a technical knockout.

Reversal
It was an amazing reversal. DeJohn had opened a bad cut over Hayes' right eye and was sharp-shooting for that cut with his left hand in hopes of forcing a halt to the fight.

Suddenly Hayes whipped in a right and left and DeJohn sagged to the floor. He got up again and was immediately battered down for a longer count. Then Hayes knocked him down a third time and Referee Johnny Weber halted the fight at 1:44.

Sports Film To Be Shown At YMCA

"Working for Fun," a 30-minute color and sound movie interwove with actual scenes of top-flight major league baseball games, thrilling professional and college football and colorful track events which has been produced for MacGregor, sports equipment manufacturers, will be shown tomorrow, at 7:30 p.m., at the Monroe County YMCA under auspices of Y's Boys Club.

The film carries the theme that increased participation in sports and wholesome physical recreation makes people healthier and happier.

The color and sound film that required almost a year to produce illustrates the far-reaching sport and recreational enjoyment being made possible to millions through healthful body-strengthening play, exercise and competition. The film now being presented throughout the country is expected to be viewed by upwards of 15,000,000 people during the next three years.

Commentator
Bill Stern, noted radio sports commentator who voices the narrative in the MacGregor sound picture, summarizes the theme in his comment that, "no matter what else they have to worry about, Americans are the most sports-minded people on earth," which he describes as "a good thing for America, both today and tomorrow." Stern further states that "no better way has been found to make civilization greater than to encourage its people in their love for healthy competitive play."

West Chester Needs Win Over Bloomsburg To Clinch Title

Johnstown, (AP) — Unbeaten West Chester, leading the Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges football conference with 200 points, can clinch the title Friday night by whipping defending champion Bloomsburg.

The powerful Rams boast four victories in conference play. Bloomsburg shows only a 1-0-1 record and is sixth in the standings with 60 points.

Shippensburg and Clarion, both undefeated with 180 and 165 points, respectively are out of the running unless Bloomsburg surprises West Chester. Clarion has won four league encounters, Shippensburg five.

Rounding out the top six are Lock Haven, 4-1, 140 points; and Slippery Rock, 2-2, 70.

Phillies Drop Wilmington Franchise

Wilmington, Del. (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies yesterday announced they have dropped their Wilmington franchise in the Interstate League. The franchise will be operated in another city by new owners in 1953.

Deal
Bob Carpenter, president of the Phillies, said the Wilmington club was dropped as part of the club's program of retrenchment in minor league operations.

Joe Reardon, head of the Phillies' farm system, said that a deal has been completed for the transfer of the Wilmington franchise to new owners and that it is only awaiting approval by the Interstate League official at a meeting in York, Pa., next Monday.

Carpenter said it cost the Phillies $50,000 in operational expenses this year to run the class "B" club.

Favorite Wins Jamaica Grind

New York (AP) — Mrs. H. P. Christiansen's Mandingo, never worse than second at any part of the marathon journey of two miles and a sixteenth, won the $25,000 added Dainfield Handicap, longest race of the New York season, at Jamaica yesterday.

Good Margin
The four-year-old son of Princequillo-Accra scored by two and one-half lengths over Ogden Phipps' Great Captain, and there was another gap of two and one-half lengths to Mrs. H. L. Straus' Pilsner, the Maryland route champion.

The time of 3:33 3-5 was well off the stake and track mark of 3:30 2-5 set last year by Royal Castle.

When you take your car to an Esso Dealer Station for gasoline, or that important Fall oil change and check-up — you're not really "doing business" directly with Esso Standard Oil Company, even though we make the fine products you get.

Instead, these 25,000 Esso Dealers from Maine to Louisiana are local, independent business men. You deal with the owners themselves — men who have invested their money and their initiative in building their own futures on serving you.

From many competing brands of gasoline and oil, these local business men have chosen Esso products. Year after year, they have seen first-hand evidence of the satisfaction to the buyer that Esso quality stands for.

As of today, these able business men have, on the average, handled Esso products for 12 years each. Many have bought from us for 35 and 40 years — some even longer.

Obviously, we couldn't do business without these men. And naturally we're proud of them — just as proud of them as we are of the 28,750 workers who are on our company payroll.

Both groups — our own employees and these "partners" in their independent businesses — express this company's basic belief that individual enterprise, given its fair chance to earn fair rewards — is the best way and the American way to make progress with and for all the people of this country.

Stroudsburg High To Honor Mothers On Saturday

Special Affair Scheduled For Giffels Field

Mothers of boys playing varsity football at Stroudsburg High School will be honored on Saturday at Gordon Giffels field, when the Mountaineers play host to Northampton. It was announced yesterday by representatives of three athletic organizations, at Stroudsburg High. The game is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m.

All mothers of boys on the varsity have been invited to attend Saturday's game as the guest of the Stroudsburg High Athletic Association, the Stroudsburg High Varsity "S" club and the Maroon Key club. The Mothers will sit in a reserved section and each will be presented with a chrysanthemum. Each mother will receive a letter of invitation, which when presented at the gate will entitle her to free admission and guidance to the special section by an usher.

The move is being made to partially repay the mothers for "their hours of anguish, delayed meals, dirty clothes and many other problems that they have had to bear this season."

Last One

Saturday's contest is the final one to be played at Gordon Giffels field this season and the last Lehigh Valley League encounter for the present campaign for the charges of Coach Jerry Stulgaitis. Plans are also underway at the present time to honor the Stroudsburg grid machine with a special breakfast at the Penn-Stroud Hotel on Thanksgiving Day, at 7:30 a. m. The team will leave for Memorial Stadium immediately after the affair, where the Mountaineers will clash with East Stroudsburg in the 1952 version of the "Battle of the Boroughs."

The breakfast is being made possible through the adult Varsity "S" club, of which Ed Williams is president. In addition to the team, school officials and any club member desiring to purchase a ticket will attend the early morning affair.

Hartford Hopes To Keep Club

Hartford, Conn. (AP) — Prospects for professional baseball in Hartford looked brighter yesterday as four separate local groups began a move to retain the Eastern League franchise about to be abandoned by the Boston Braves.

Within 24 hours after the parent Boston team had announced the franchise of the Hartford Eastern League club could be "bought for $1," the fight to keep the game alive in this city was under way.

First to come forward were William M. Savitt, jeweler and civic leader, and his brother, Atty. Max M. Savitt.

More Help

They were followed by Fred Dubin, consulting engineer, who said he had a group of 10 professional and businessmen who were prepared to finance the reorganization of the Hartford baseball club.

Another group headed by Lou De Fazio, Hartford contractor, who, with Emilio Q. Daddario, former mayor of Middletown, proposed forming a non-profit making group of Hartford area businessmen to run the team.

"There are no connections between any of the groups."

Frick Gives Rivera One More Chance In Baseball

By Joe Reichler

New York (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick yesterday ordered Jim Rivera placed on indefinite probation and said that one more slip by the Chicago White Sox outfielder would result in his expulsion from baseball.

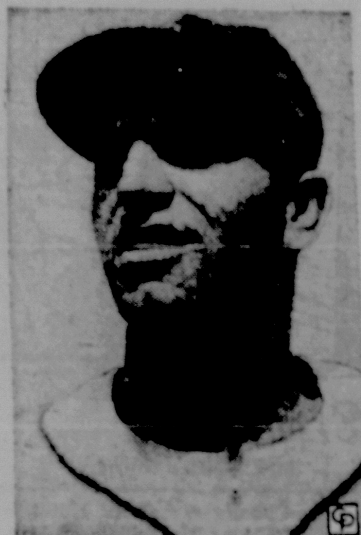

Frick, who intimated the penalty imposed upon Rivera was a lenient one, said the player will be permitted to play with the White Sox but ordered the Chicago club to make a report to his office of any incident of misbehavior on or off the playing field in which Rivera is involved.

Making it clear that he considered Rivera guilty of a certain type of moral delinquency despite his exonerated by the Cook County (Ill.) grand jury on a charge of rape last month, the commissioner prohibited the White Sox from transferring the player's contract for a period of one year and placed the burden of responsibility for his conduct on and off the field on the club.

"The commissioner recognizes, as does the Chicago American League club," Frick said, "that they have an obligation to the public to maintain the highest possible standards of morality among all men who are connected with the game."

Frick disclosed that he summoned Rivera to his office on October 20, four days after the rape charge had been dismissed, and reviewed the player's entire history.

Jim Rivera

moned Rivera to his office on October 20, four days after the rape charge had been dismissed, and reviewed the player's entire history.

"I made it clear to him that because of his previous difficulties, he was a lucky boy to have gone as far as he has," said Frick. "I hope he realizes that hereafter we're not going to wait until he gets to court."

The 29-year-old New York-born Puerto Rican was charged with raping a 22-year-old married woman in Chicago last September 28. Rivera admitted being intimate with the woman but denied using force. He previously had served a five-year sentence in Atlanta penitentiary on a similar charge, while in the Army.

Frick said to the best of his knowledge it was the first time a commissioner of baseball had to make a decision on a morals charge.

In Chicago, Mrs. Grace Comiskey, president of the White Sox, expressed her delight over the commissioner's ruling that permitted Rivera to remain in baseball.

"I had hoped and prayed Rivera would be given another chance," she said. "He really deserves a chance because I believe the recent charge against him was unfair."

Pro Football Venture Fails In Dallas

By Harold V. Ratliff

Dallas (AP) — The Dallas franchise in professional football folded yesterday in the wake of losses that ran to almost a quarter of a million dollars with the season a little more than half finished.

President Giles Miller of the Texans, a club that came to Dallas last winter as the first major league professional football franchise in the state, announced that it was being turned back to the National Football League.

He explained that the club did not have sufficient funds to meet its obligations, adding, "for that matter, unless additional funds were made available immediately this club could not play its next game." Miller showed newsmen a telegram he said he was sending to League Commissioner Bert Bell.

Miller and other club officials tonight received a telegram from Bell saying that notice as "hereby given" of a hearing to determine the disposition of the Dallas team, including its franchise, player contracts and all other matters relating to its operation at the league offices in Philadelphia on Friday.

Bell said that all persons having or claiming any interest in the team may appear and be heard.

Statement

In Philadelphia, Bell said he has not been notified "formally" that the Dallas franchise had been turned back to the league for operation.

Bell said that he wasn't sure just what Miller meant when he told a press conference that the pro team was "now in the hands of the league."

"The only thing I can tell you now," said Bell, "is that regardless of who operates Dallas it will complete its schedule of five games this season."

Dallas still has home games with the Chicago Bears, and Detroit Lions and away games with Detroit, Green Bay and the Philadelphia Eagles.

Bell said that the league certainly was not going to operate Dallas for the profit of the present owners. He indicated that if the Dallas franchise and player contracts were turned back to the league for operation, the NFL would reap any profits or foot any loss.

John Coyle, one of five trustees representing the 16 stockholders, said that sufficient financial backing had been obtained to operate the club on a long-range basis but that "interim financing" could not be obtained for several reasons.

Southern Grid Machines Hold Edge In Defensive Figures

New York (AP) — Maryland, Georgia Tech, Tennessee and Virginia, in that order, have the most rugged defenses in college football, the NCAA Service Bureau statistics released yesterday show.

And with only two weeks of the 1952 season left, there is every indication that a southern team will win the defensive championship for seventh time in the past 10 years.

Right now Maryland, which bumps heads with equally unbeaten Mississippi Saturday, is the stingiest when it comes to yielding ground to an opponent on the football field. The Terps have given up an average of 156.4 yards to each of seven opponents.

Others

Georgia Tech's figure is 166.6 yards, Tennessee's 171.1 and Virginia's 177.6. The only other team under 220 yards a game is

Southern California, with 178.3. About the only defensive titles not held by southerners are owned by Michigan State and Southern California. The Big Ten Spartans have permitted their seven foes only 78.7 yards a game on ground plays while the Trojans have restricted their seven rivals to an aggregate of 26 points, an average of 3.7 points.

Virginia's claims to a pass defense honors is slight on a yardage basis but the Cavaliers are one of two teams—Colgate is the other—which has knocked down two-thirds of the opposition's aerial attempts. The Virginians' aerial defense has been pierced for only 53 yards a game with Duke second at 53.1. Virginia has spoiled 68.6 per cent of the enemy's tosses. Colgate has knocked down 68.2 per cent.

Georgia Tech, incidentally, has not been scored upon via the air lanes this season.

Notre Dame Lineman Named Tops In Associated Press Poll

By Ted Meier

New York, (AP) — Dan Shannon, 19, of Notre Dame, is this week's lineman of the week.

Shannon, a 190-pound sophomore, gained the laurels in The Associated Press weekly poll because of his teeth-jarring tackle of Oklahoma's Larry Grigg.

This tackle occurred in the fourth quarter of last Saturday's game at South Bend and has been termed the key to Notre Dame's upset 27-21 triumph over the Sooners.

The play was seen not only by the 57,000 grid fans present but by the millions more who watched on television.

Tom Catlin, Oklahoma center, a previous winner of the lineman award this year, and Bob O'Neil, Notre Dame end, also were outstanding in the game characterized by extremely hard contacts.

Long List

Doug Atkins, Tennessee tackle; Harley Sewell, Texas guard and Johnny Crouch, Texas Christian end, were among the other linemen praised. So were Ray Lewis, Idaho end; Hank Lemire, Holy Cross end; Steve Eisenhauer, Navy guard; Clyde Pickard, Wake Forest guard; Ed Meadows, Duke tackle; and Tom Scott, Virginia end.

Paul Sautter, Miami (Ohio) guard, kicked the first field goal of his three-year career with a 21-yard boot against Marquette. And Bob Gutt, George Washington guard, achieved what every lineman wants—he scored a touchdown against Bucknell by taking a lateral and crossing the Bison goal line.
